THE COVER STORY

CHAMPION CO-BI'S GOLD APOLLO and CHAMPION TOOHER'S FULA M'CONGO SPLENDOR, both owned by Mrs. Constance Binney Cheshire, 148-31 Powell's Cove Blvd., Whitestone, New York.

"Apollo" shown on cover going Best of Breed at Westminster Kennel Club Show, February 1964, over 12 champions, 26 Basenjis. He was second in the country for Best of Breeds, 1965.

Apollo is noted for his superb gait. He has the swift, tireless gait, resembling a racehorse trotting full out.

His sire is Ch. Reveille Recruit and his dam is Ch. Jocaste of Syngefield, both Specialty winners.

His top winning son is Ch. Reveille Rebel, and is the sire of 19 offspring, many of them champions. Apollo is at stud to approved bitches. Fee $150.

Champion Tooher's Fula M'Congo Splendor, called "Dolly," says, "I'm young, I'm lovely, I'm engaged to Apollo."

Dolly was BOB at West Springfield, Mass. and at Willimantic, Conn., May 14, 15, 1966. When only a puppy Dolly was BOB over two champions under Judge Ackland at Schenectady, N. Y., November 13, 1965.

Her sire and dam are Fula Reveille of the Congo x M'Bia of the Congo.

THE JUNIOR WARRANT

by Ernest Goodman, our British Correspondent

I have previously given outline details of the procedure involved in making up a champion in Great Britain. Readers will have gathered that this is the equivalent, in American terms, of gaining three majors under three different judges in competition with both specials and non-specials, in entries on an average of between 15 and 40 Basenjis of the same sex, drawn from the whole of the country.

There is, however, another award in Great Britain which, though perhaps not so important, is certainly much sought after, can give a cachet to the dog that does not gain his title, and therefore is to some extent a compensation for the rather tough requirements involved in seeking the title of Champion.

This award is called the Junior Warrant, and is related to the number of first prizes in breed classes gained before the age of 18 months. A total of 25 points must be amassed, three points being awarded for each first prize in a class confined to the breed at championship shows where C.C's. are on offer, and one point for each first prize in a breed class at an open show, or a championship show with no C.C's. on offer. (Readers will remember that the number of pairs of C.C's. available to any breed during the year is related to the number of registrations in that breed). Wins in variety classes, i.e. in competition with other breeds, however important or difficult to achieve, do not count.

To some extent, therefore, the ease with which a junior warrant is obtained will depend upon the number of shows, both championship and open, at which breed classes are scheduled. In breeds like Miniature Poodles, for instance, breed classes are provided at virtually all such shows. There will, of course, be many more animals competing for the award, but there is not a direct proportional relationship between registrations and average class entries.

There are, as would be expected, a number of side-effects of this award. It obviously encourages exhibitors to show promising dogs as early, as frequently, and in as many suitable classes as possible, thus adding to competition and also to the class entries and therefore to the success of the shows.

A negative effect, however, is suggested by some breeders who feel that the award sometimes leads exhibitors to campaign young stock before they are ready for the show ring and to affect them adversely through the strain of too frequent showing. A certain inequality also arises from the fact that some breeds mature much more quickly than others and are therefore ready for serious competition earlier. Basenjis tend to mature early, and therefore it is not unusual for a Basenji to gain his junior warrant long before he is out of puppy.

In spite of the dangers, I have a strong feeling that until the conditions for making up a champion are made easier, and there are no signs that this will happen in the near future, the junior warrant will remain.

Basenji registrations over here, as recorded by the Kennel Club, totalled 237 for 1965 as against 219 in the previous year. There are 44 breeds with fewer registrations and 65 with more. Thirteen pairs of Challenge Certificates have again been allocated for 1967,

Dogs of the Pharaohs from Lloyd H. Curlee, 1803 Fernwood,

Odessa, Texas 79760

The following extract was taken from the book, "Old Africa's Last Secrets" by Lawrence G. Green and published by Putnam and Co., Ltd. in 1961.

My friend, the French doctor, was responsible for showing me one of the strange dogs of the world. I had passed it by as a mongrel of the Belgian Congo. "Regardez le Basenji," insisted the doctor, "there indeed you have a mystery, a relation of the Eskimo dog in the Congo forest."

I observed a coffee-coloured dog the size of a Terrier, wearing a most amusing look of perplexity. Above the network of wrinkles on the forehead were large foxy ears. The muzzle was sharp, the eyes hazel, the small tail curled. "One of the oldest breeds on earth" said the doctor, "old in Africa but new in Europe. You would have a hard job to discover one in Great Britain or France."

That was more than thirty years ago and even now the barkless Basenji is rare outside tropical Africa. I last saw one when I was hunting in Angola just before the war. One of the Kuangari trackers, leading me in search of reedbuck, had a beautiful chestnut and white Basenji with him. I had not expected to see one so far south. In the deep forests of the Congo and Angola, tribesmen use the Basenji for detecting game, driving small buck into nets or chasing them from cover into open country. Basenjis will also tackle the fierce long-toothed twenty-pound reed rats which the natives eat. A Basenji will scent its quarry at eighty yards. The Basenji often carries a little wooden bell or rattle when following game in the bush so that it can be located by the hunters.

Basenjis have never become so common in savage Africa as to be worthless. A native hunter in the Congo will give a dozen good spears for a well-trained Basenji, some wives cost less than that.

Basenji means "wild thing," natives call it "M'bwa M'kubwa M'bwa," (jumping up and down) from their habit of leaping in an effort to see over the elephant grass.

Of course, the Basenji is not entirely voiceless. No one knows why any tame dogs started barking for all dogs in the wild state are barkless. They may whine or howl like a jackal, or growl like a wolf, but the bark is a sign of contact with mankind and Basenjis have been known to bark. He gives out his typical plaintive yodel or musical crow.

BEST PUPPY IN MATCH

Flag's Son, pictured at 5 months in his first showing, won BB, 1st in group and on to Best Puppy in Match, 5/29/66, at the Albany, N. Y. Sanction Match. His brothers "Fame" and "Fortune" have also won group placings at matches recently.

I find the barkless Basenjis fascinating, on account of the mystery the French doctor mentioned to me, "a relation of the Eskimo dog in the Congo forest." Was it possible? I made enquiries in many quarters and confirmed the statement. Basenjis belong to the Spitz or Pomeranian family. Perhaps you know that the four earliest breeds were probably the Pariah, the Spitz, the Greyhound, and the Mastiff. One cannot be absolutely confident about the origin of the dog - some authorities say, the people of stone-age Egypt domesticated a jackal and produced the Spitz, others say that all dogs are descended from the northern wolf. African natives will often tell you that their hunting dogs are derived from foxes but there is no supporting evidence. Dogs breed easily with wolves and jackals, but a cross between a dog and a fox has yet to be identified; similarly, the hyena is in no way related to the dog. Whatever may have occurred many thousands of years ago, it does seem that the Spitz inherited certain jackal characteristics, when it whines or yelps, the similarity is remarkable and anatomists claim to have discovered many points of resemblance between jackal and Spitz skeletons. It is clear that dogs of the Spitz type were carried by navigators from Egypt during the stone age and presented to the barbarians in Europe. My authority is Obermeier, who excavated so many caves, etc. He found evidence in Europe of an Egyptian jackal-type dog which was the prototype of the Spitz and from which the Terrier was derived. Other members of the family are the Eskimo Husky dog, the Samoyed from Siberia, the Scandinavian Elk-dog, the little Schipperke of the Dutch barges, and the Chow-Chow. Examine them closely and you will see they all have the unmistakable tightly curled tail.

Further evidence of the Egyptian origin of the of the Spitz and his descendent, the Basenji, has been found in the tombs. Egyptian artists painted dogs very like the Spitz six thousand years ago. Pictures of Basenjis, wearing jewelled collars and led by dwarves, were found in Tutankhamen's tomb. A Basenji of the fifth dynasty was

THE BASENJI CLUB OF DALLAS

"DALLAS TWIST"

by Jo York

On May 6th, The Basenji Club of Dallas, held their monthly meeting at one of El Chico's restaurants in Dallas. After a good dinner and a short business meeting, we discussed our coming Fun Match, and greeted our new members. Our speaker, Mr. Tom Vincent, told us how the German Shepherd Dog Club was started and how he began to breed the dogs. He gave us many good ideas on how to raise money for our club, keep new members, and how to make our meetings more enjoyable. He also told us that we should learn to fault our dogs by bringing several to the meetings, setting them up on tables and having an expert teach us to find the bad and good points. This will help us in showing our dogs, as well as breeding for more nearly perfect specimens. Mr. Vincent also told us of his experiences in showing his dogs. It was a very good meeting and I do believe everyone enjoyed it.

On May 14th, we held our second Fun Match. Our matches are stirring up more interest in our club than anything else. We all have "champions" whether the judges think so or not, and 95% of the club members want to show their dogs - good luck, everyone.

Mr. Will Manny, dog editor of The Dallas Times Herald, judged the match. We had 25 Basenji entries which is almost all the Basenjis in this area. We were very glad to have such a large turn-out, and hope to keep it up.

HORUS RA-HARAKHTE, owned by Mr. & Mrs. Jerry Mayes, Richardson, Texas, won Best of Breed, and CAMBRIA'S FANYIZA, owned by Mr. & Mrs. Murry Oxman, Dallas, won Best of Opposite Sex. Congratulations to both owners.

We are planning to have another Fun Match in June and will elect new officers at our June 3rd meeting. We hold our meetings on the first Friday of every month and anyone within driving distance of Dallas is very welcome to come.

The Basenji Club of Dallas is in trouble. We want

found embalmed and perfumed and wrapped in fine linen, evidently a dog of the Egyptian royal household.

It is possible, of course, that the first Basenjis were tamed far down the Nile and brought to the Pharaohs as gifts. When the Basenji died out in Egypt it survived in the lands of the equator and is now only really at home in the great equatorial forests, where it is valued as a friend (and eaten as a delicacy) by many natives. African Basenjis have short, smooth silky coats and those with reddish hair shine like burnished copper under the sun. They become acclimated in Britain and America (like their ancestors in the Arctic) and soon grow winter coats.

Dogs have changed enormously since the small carnivorous mammal, MIACIC, the ancestor of the whole canine tribe, first appeared forty million years ago. Selective breeding has created such dramatic transformations that a dog may bear little resemblance to his forbears of half a century ago. Yet, in spite of the changes in other breeds, the Basenji remains unchanged. It lived for centuries hidden in the Congo forests and flourished when the glories of Egypt faded. And when it was rediscovered within living memory, it was still the dog of the Pharaohs.

I am grateful to the observant French doctor who knew Africa so well, and did not allow me to miss the Basenji in his forest home.

CORRECTION - Ch. Maralee's 4 point win was at San Antonio, not Austin as reported in the June issue (page 8).

EASTERN PARTY LINE

by Shirley Chambers

The following questionnaire was sent to all judges who are licensed to judge Basenjis. This month ends the series of answers which started in the November 1965 issue. Next month, I will try to write a summary from all the judges' answers so we will have an over-all picture of what the judges' prefer and look for in a Basenji.

The questions:

1. Do you consider basic soundness more important than over-all type?
2. Do you prefer Basenjis to be shown on a loose lead, and do you prefer a slow, moderate, or a fast gait?
3. Does coat color affect your decisions - that is, shades of red or red versus tri?
4. Do you think that the Open Classes should be divided by color, with separate classes for reds and tris, and do you feel that some Basenjis are too copiously marked with white, while others have too little white?
5. Do you consider temperament and/or showmanship an important factor in selecting the winning dogs? Does coat condition affect your decision?
6. Do you think there is too much size difference in Basenjis and is this (size) an important factor in your judging? Do you think there should be a definite size disqualification?
7. Do you have any suggestions to the breeders that you might recommend to improve the breed. What do you consider to be the breed's most serious fault in the ring today?

We want to thank all the judges for taking their valuable time in giving us their opinions on our beloved breed, the Basenji. We are indeed grateful.

Our last four answers in this issue are all from judges of England. Our first from, A. W. Fullwood, Esq., Leeds 4, England.

1. I consider combined basic soundness and over-all type.
2. I prefer shown on loose lead, and fastish gait.
3. No, coat colour does not affect my decisions.

4. For preference, Open Classes could be divided, and some white markings vary.

5. Temperament, and showmanship, and condition are my deciding factors.

6. And standard size is a factor to me.

7. Hind action, I strongly adhere to. No, I am not a subscriber to any magazine to any breeds, strictly to standards of our over 60 years of judging.

Our second answer this month is a quicky from W. N. Bradshaw, also from England.

1. No.
2. Yes. Medium gait.
3. Type does not just mean colour.
4. No.
5. Yes. Yes.
6. A Basenji is as big as it looks.
7. Action.

Our third judge's answer is from Barbara Percival, well-known judge and breeder of the Syngefield Basenjis.

1. NO - it is no use having a sound dog if it is not typical of the breed.

2. On a loose lead yes. A fast gait.

3. I do not mind if Basenjis are red or tri-colour, but the colour must be good. I do not like sandy shades of red or dirty black.

4. I do not think the Open Classes should be divided by colour - I do not mind about the markings as long as it conforms to the standard.

5. I consider temperament most important and it does affect my decision - showmanship is a help but not so important, especially in the lower classes.

6. I have not experienced much size differential in Basenjis when judging but would disqualify any if two inches either way different to the standard.

7. I think temperament needs improving - the most serious faults, in my opinion, are straight shoulders, low set tails; pigmentation also needs watching. There are too many light eyes and pinkish noses.

Our last, but by no means least, judge's answer is from Herbert Essam, also from England.

1. This question must depend on two factors, the degree of unsoundness, and how far removed from the breed standard.

The writer feels that a goodly percentage are to some extent unsound, standing, and on moving. This is so of all breeds, but in Basenjis it is more easy to assess, for they have no long coat to hide these defects. I would, if I may, hasten to add that your beautiful breed is one of the soundest in this country and offers no real problem. Now with regards to type, one must endeavour to get as near as possible to the standard, and I imagine it would be absolutely wrong to place an exhibit that is far removed from the standard at the top of the class. Even though it is soundest on view. That, may I suggest, must depend on the merit of the judge. He must be able to appreciate both

Traveling With Our Basenjis

by Wanaka Peters - R Bar W Basenjis

Our first dog, a Pomeranian, was in her first show in 1932. That was in the days when dog shows were held at state fairs and 4H Clubs. We won the blue ribbon and were so very proud.

Mr. Peters was with an oil company and during the depression we were shipped to a trouble spot every time they pulled a pin from the map. We were sent to Omak, Wash., during the bank holiday and had to live for eighteen months in one room in the hotel. One couple, one child, and one dog which was the darling of all comers. She sat under the table in the dining room when we ate, slept in front of the huge fireplace which, at times, was the only heat in the whole hotel. When she wanted out in the morning we let her out into the hall; she'd go down to the lobby and wait at the door until someone let her out, wait outside until someone came in and back up through the lobby, up the stairs and to our room. Even then we were firm believers in good training.

Several years later I was in Tacoma, Washington, trying to cash a check on a Saturday afternoon - knew no one - times were still bad and the banks were closed for the week end. In a drug store a man stepped up and told the druggist. "I'll vouch for her - she does not know me, but I've watched her, a small child, and a little yellow dog, many times in hotel lobbies." He was a cosmetic salesman from Philadelphia and said he used to watch that yellow dog and wished his little girl had one like it.

I've told you this just as a preface to traveling with Basenjis. We've had many dogs over the years, many of them show dogs and they have all traveled with us. But traveling with Basenjis is something else again - they cause more comment - people show more interest. During the past eight years we've traveled approximately 60,000 miles a year for our company. Many of these miles have also been covered by our three adult Basenjis, BWANA, FULAFAY, and COSSET OF THE CONGO. They are welcome in all but one hotel, the Fremont in Las Vegas. This hotel allows no pets of any kind. Most hotel and motel people are happy to have well trained dogs. Some go so far as to say they'd rather have dogs than children. Ours have been taught to go to the back of elevators and sit down until told to come. They will sit on street corners for red lights. People wonder if they could see the red turn to green, but we know the dogs have been trained to sit when we stop and go when we give a slight tug on the lead. Many people think walking three Basenjis in traffic cannot be done.

Only once did I have any real trouble. In Tucson, Arizona, we passed a blind boy with a German Shepherd and an accordion. I had Bwana along and he made a jump at the accordion - probably because it hurt his ears. The doorman at the Pioneer Hotel grabbed him and put him into the lobby and said, "Boy-dog, that music gets on my nerves too."

When we first got the dogs from England, Bwana did not like colored, Indian, or Mexican people. We have many of them in Arizona so we just took him for walks and had every little child pet him. Now he loves them all. We had a feeling it was a matter of odors. We, of the desert, do not smell of Lavender, Pear's soap, or London fog.

One time in Carlsbad, New Mexico, the dogs jumped out of the refrigerated car onto the hot sticky asphalt and we had to treat blistered and burned feet on that trip. Another time our veterinarian had recommended lean raw meat and the stores were all closed in El Paso, Texas, with the exception of a drive-in market. I picked frozen cube steaks, selecting those with the least fat and the clerk told me the ones with fat had the best flavor. When I told him they were for our dogs he looked as though I needed mental help.

Another time we were walking on the street and came to a rather large colored woman standing on the curb. Bwana took one look at all that nice shade and laid down and would not move. The colored lady said, "Let him be, honey, he knows shade when he sees it." I was afraid she'd be offended.

In Clovis, New Mexico, Bwana and Toots snatched a sparrow out of the air. I had on a white knit suit and had never known how much blood was in one little bird. I was miles from home - had no other outfit to change to and I

CURLY TALES FROM THE ROCKY MOUNTAINS

by Earl & Diane Laue

Although I know next to nothing about Junior Handling, I have noticed lately that the younger members of the Basenji clan in this area seem to be doing more than their share of winning in the Junior Showmanship competition, and I think they deserve some recognition for their feats.

The first young lady I want to mention is Terry Wood, age 12, who does an extremely good job of handling Basenjis. She can often be seen in the conformation ring helping her parents or Jo Weller, and handles dogs better than some adults. At the Terry-All Kennel Club show, May 29, Terry placed second in a large Open Junior handling class.

At the same show, Ronald Goshorn, age 10, won first place in the Novice handling class. Just a week before his sister Ann, age 13, won the Novice class at the Ogden, Utah show.

The interest in Junior Showmanship here is very keen and quite competitive as there are many young Basenji owners in this area including the three Wood girls, Terry and Vicki, age 11; and Debbie, age 8; the three Goshorns, Ann, Ronald, and Michael, age 11; and Trina Johnson. Trina, in addition to her Basenji, "Lady," has full charge of the obedience and conformation training of her own little Sheltie, on which she now has two legs towards her C. D. degree. We haven't really seen much junior handling news from other parts of the country other than from Sam Dailey in Michigan, and wondered if other areas might have some news that could be reported.

In obedience, Scott Goshorn graduated at the top of his class of thirty in Beginner's Class with "Billy" a couple of weeks ago, and then proceeded to step out of the ring at the Lincoln and Grand Island shows with scores of 196 1/2 and 193 respectively. He earned two legs towards "Billy's" C. D. degree at his first two shows! Scott and Billy work well together and make it look very easy, and we want to congratulate them on their success.

The Magnolia Basenji Club

Mr. & Mrs. Juan M. Puente,
1189 Monroe Drive N.E., Atlanta, Georgia

On Saturday, May 28, 1966 at JACKSONVILLE, Florida, the first meeting of the Basenji fanciers in the Southeastern United States took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don R. Castle, 10855 Fort Caroline Road. There was an encouraging turnout of approximately twenty enthusiastic supporters for the long-awaited area Basenji club.

Plans were made for a second meeting to be held after the Basenji judging in Asheville, North Carolina on July 30, 1966. It was unanimously decided to name the club, "THE MAGNOLIA BASENJI CLUB."

A membership committee of three, and a constitution committee of three were elected. The membership committee is Mrs. Betty Castle, 10855 Fort Caroline Road, Jacksonville, Fla., Mr. Bill Luttrell, 813 Stonefield Ave., Charleston, S. Car., and Mrs. Minnie Hill, 935 42nd Ave. No., St. Petersburg, Fla. The constitution committee is Mr. William Hicks, Route 2, Marjane Dr., Macon, Ga., Mrs. Ouida McGahee, Route 2, Box 75, Valdosta, Ga., and Mrs. Peggy Puente, 1189 Monroe Drive N.E., Atlanta, Ga. Officers will be elected at the next meeting.

For the purposes of American Kennel Club sanction, the metropolitan area of Jacksonville, being the most centrally located site and most convenient to club members throughout the Southeast, was chosen as headquarters for the proposed club.

A beautiful and delicious buffet luncheon was served by our most gracious host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Don R. Castle. After lunch, the group enjoyed the pleasant weather and "Old South" atmosphere of an outdoor social hour under the mossy oaks at the Castles' country home, in the city.

Anyone interested in becoming a part of this club, please write to any of the addresses above, or meet at ringside after the Basenji judging at the Asheville show, July 30, 1966. "SEE Y'ALL THERE!"

ARCTIC CAPERS

by Sam McKee

NEVER AGAIN! (WANNA BET?)

Arctic Capers indeed.

Some people are just plain nuts. Some prefer fancy trimmings. Latter quite true when applied to gang from Anchorage that chartered plane to go to Fairbanks.

Up at 4 A. M. Get dogs, wife and self together. Out to airport. Wait to see if all dogs loaded. Announcement: not enough room for all cages. What now? Call Fairbanks. Another airline has cages available to loan. Blessings. Sobering thought: still not enough cages. Call Fairbanks again. Already weary show secretary says cages will be available if have to build them.

Pile on board. Surrounded by people and dogs. Dogs in our laps, dogs in aisles, dogs in cages up forward. People nervous. Dogs calm.

Proud of dogs. Ours and all others. Dogs rode in midst of confusion without squabbling. Stewardess serves breakfast, stepping over and around dogs. Should be cited for service above and beyond.

On arrival met by large turnout from host club and transported to hangar in time for show. Basenjis placed in crate loaned by Poodle owners. (Always did like Poodles.) Marvelous crate: 'senjis didn't get out. Must check name of manufacturer.

Handling duties swapped with others. One 'senji in OB handled by Beagle owner whose ability proved: his 13" bitch went BIS. Reciprocated by handling his 15" to RD while he had WD. Although acquainted with many at Fairbanks, met two new ones who came 'specially to see Basenjis. One taken by Mimi and she by him; he handled her (or she showed him) in Novice; not sure which, was busy at time, at least he came back smiling. Bettie did marvelous job handling Dottie, but shook by finishing her; could hardly talk afterwards.

A real week for hounds. Smooth Dachs (whose mom had topped obedience trial in Anchorage) also finished. All day, hound owners kidding each other: some hound's gonna do it again. (Whippet that had taken everything in Anchorage not present.) Watch BIS breathlessly. Carley Harriman waves "our" entry to top spot. Shouting, screaming, stumbling, crying, incoherent "hounds" mob ring.

Show over. Back to airport. Wait to load. Met John Hill just arriving from Washington, D. C. New Basenji enthusiast for area. Just what we need.

Try to get people out of bar. They say no point to hurry: Weimaraner pup chewed hole in crate, took off for high ground. Posse already off and running. Sit down, have a drink. BIS owner comes in, tries to round up people. People round him up, buy more drinks. Pup heads off posse, returns to airport. Finally everybody on plane.

Back home. Unload dogs. Take home. Down to morning newspaper. Home about 1 A. M. Up early next morning. Write article and deliver to afternoon newspaper. Then to work. Struggle through day. Home again.

Feed Face, feed dogs, fall in bed.

Worth it? Bet your life. Asked later if judge and show any good. Answer: Finished champion so fine judge. wonderful show.

Anyone else have silly questions?

of these points, and then assess them in accordance with their deviation from the standard.

2. Personally I like them on a loose lead, for usually, when handled on a tight lead, it is an endeavour to hide bad frontal movement. I should say a moderate gait, for it permits an easier assessment of movement.

3. Not really, a good judge should learn to appreciate the competitors in accordance with the breed standard, not his own personal ideals.

4. I do not feel that in open classes colours should be separated, this would be uneconomical, for in this country an average entry in the open class would be about eight, but it would certainly be a good point of interest at a club championship show, also at Crufts, for there the entry would justify the added classes, and thus provide more interest. This is what happens in Cockers.

5. Temperament and showmanship must be an important factor in judging of dogs. For an exhibit on his toes, proudly showing off his many attributes, must have more appeal than the one that shivers on his stomach with his tail between his legs. Coat condition must be taken into consideration in final assessment, for an unhealthy specimen must lose appeal in a battle of outline and beauty.

6. I don't think the question of size gives too much apprehension in this country for they generally appear to be fairly standard in size here. Naturally size must be taken into consideration for there is a suggested standard of dogs 24 pounds and 17 inches, bitches 22 pounds and 16 inches, one gets used to judging to these standards, and I cannot imagine any serious wander from these measurements.

7. Lack of length in neck, too much length in body. Light eyes, bad mouths, heavy bone. Imperfect tail and tail carriage.

was the most unhappy woman in all New Mexico.

Small boys stop us on the street to see our "funny" dogs and ask us if we ever have any extras could they have one. Older people have stopped, admired and asked questions. Once a woman stopped and told me they were the best looking Fox Terriers she had ever seen.

It's a pleasure to have good dogs and to travel with good dogs and know they are welcome. In fact, several of the bell hops squabble to see who gets to walk them. These dogs have been in penthouses, motels, and hotels, and we have yet to have any real trouble. We were worried once - woke up one morning and noticed a large wet spot on the bed. Mr. Peters said, "I'll get dressed and tell the manager." When he came in the manager took one look at the ceiling and said, "So that refrigerator is leaking again." We had never considered looking at the ceiling.

ALOHA FROM HAWAII

by Dorothy Gowens

I'm on maternity leave once again. This time I cut it pretty close as I was at work when Maxine, who had KURO at her house daytimes last week, called in a frenzy on Thursday. I asked her to take Kuro back to our house (a matter of eight blocks) and I would be home as soon as the crazy Honolulu-Kailua transportation system could get me there. This is the one big disadvantage of not having a car handy downtown. If you don't have one, you depend on a jitney service which leaves hourly and is a precarious venture at best as the limousines are all elderly and subject to the ailments and stoppages of the aged and senile. Anyway, I reached home in time and I'll swear Maxine had those pups, not Kuro. Kuro and Maxine wound up with five tri-colors to their credit; and I wound up exhausted from trying to keep Maxine out of the whelping box. The pups are all healthy and now it will be a period of waiting to see how they will develop.

For the second time since using my veterinarian over here in Kailua, a new receptionist asked when I brought the newborns in yesterday for dewclaw removal, "Oh, in for docked tails?" I swear I would sue anyone who cut off the tails on a litter of Basenjis! Can you imagine anything more unmarketable?

Thanks for the information on the New Zealand Basenji owners. I will keep the names and addresses. It may interest you to know the strict regulations surrounding exporting a dog to Australia or New Zealand: Mora Huskey's husband is a pilot and for a time it looked as though she would go to Australia with him on a job. This involved making arrangements for her Basenji, MOMI. Do you know that the Huskeys would have had to send Momi to England for six months quarantine; then by ship (plane travel not allowed) to Australia, and another month in quarantine there?! If a dog lands by air in Australia, there is no recourse: it is destroyed.

It is so nice and quiet around here. Occasionally Kuro sallies out into the run and swears at the other dogs outside (the big pups are allowed in the house once in awhile, but it takes too much watching yet to let them in unsupervised) but Hak and Piko are on the lanai couch and tickled to death to be indoors watching the rain pelt down. I have Bach on the record player and cold beer in the refrigerator, and what more could a person ask?

YODELS FROM THE PACIFIC NORTHWEST

The Evergreen Basenji Club's third all-age match went over with a bang, June 5th. The match site was in the Smiths' back yard, and due to a last minute scare about a zoning ordinance, the affair was known through the neighborhood as a "lawn party," and dogs and people were fairly quiet. Nonetheless, a good time was had by all, with a lot of newcomers present. There were more adult Basenjis at this match than at the last two, which was pleasing.

We were especially pleased with the obedience entry. There is a growing interest in obedience here in the Pacific Northwest. We had seven entries. Highest scoring dog in match was THE VELDT'S SAMA KAMA WACKY PAT, owned by Debra Janes, Portland, Oregon. Second highest was TINAS COMA'S VEGA'S STARBRIGHT, owned by Janine Wimpres of Seattle. Other entries, none of which disgraced their owners were, TINAS COMA TOP DEB, owned by Betty Holt; TINAS COMA TINKER, owned by Lorraine Goldsby; CH. JNK JEFFERSON, owned by Betty Holt; TINAS COMA CUPID'S COMMANDER, owned by Walt Kisner; and CH. JNK JAMIE JINX, owned by Judy and Brad Lowe.

In conformation:

Best in Match - KOKO'S ROYAL NUTMEG, owned by Marvin and Elaine Shannon.

Best of Opposite Sex - TINAS COME TINKER, owned by Lorraine Goldsby.

1st Puppy Dog - TENNJI'S IBN RUDU, owned by Sheila H. Smith.

1st Novice Dog - TINA'S COMA VEG'S STAR-BRIGHT, owned by Janine Wimpres.

1st American-Bred Dog - TINA'S COMA TINKER, owned by Lorraine Goldsby.

1st Open Dog - KALAHARI'S GOLDEN NARNI, owned by J. and S. Edinger.

1st Puppy Bitch - KOKO'S ROYAL NUTMEG, owned by Marvin and Elaine Shannon.

1st Novice Bitch - HOT WATER, owned by Shirley Way.

1st American-Bred Bitch - CEDANDER'S TANA, owned by Walt Kisner.

1st Open Bitch - TENNJI'S HATARI, owned by Sheila H. Smith.

Carry Your Dogs In Crates

Dorothy Wease, San Antonio, Texas

I'm sorry I haven't had time to answer my mail promptly. We left here on April 30th for an early vacation through the Middle and Eastern states expecting to go to Boonsboro, and pick up a bitch puppy from Mrs. Anderson. We got as far as Springfield, Ohio, when a local farmer's truck pulled across the highway in front of us. There was hardly time to put on the brakes and I hit him broadside. The car was totally demolished and all three of us in my car were injured. However, Ragna Spears and I both had our seat belts fastened tight so we got bumps on the head, badly bruised legs, and I broke two ribs, but otherwise we were O.K. My aunt was sitting in the middle seat of my VW bus and had no seat belt. She was thrown to the floor and broke her hip.

My insurance company put me in a new car in four days, and Ragna and I went on to Maryland and got the puppy. We also took time to stop and meet Bettie Rees, Shirley Chambers, and Ross Newmann. I was determined, since we had come so far that I was not going home without accomplishing a little of what we went for.

The B. C. O. A. roster was a Godsend. Ragna phoned Bettie Rees first and she called Marion Thomas in Dayton which was closer. Marion came right over to the hospital and was so kind and helpful to us until we could get our wits about us.

Needless to say, when I got home I discovered I had been running on nerve and just collapsed. I'm still off work but expect to start back next week. My aunt received excellent treatment in Springfield and we flew her home this week. So all's well that ends well.

If it is possible, I would like for you to emphasize the importance of carrying dogs in crates in cars. My "Rusty" came through this terrific smashup without a scratch. He was riding peacefully in a stout wooden crate that was not damaged at all. We have had several accidents in this area where a dog riding loose in the car has been killed. I know that Rusty would have been killed had he not been in his crate.

We had just thanked our lucky stars that we had insurance. We should have had more faith in our three traveling companions.

In a few months we are looking forward to an extended trip, knowing our barkless friends are used to traveling. All we have to do is open their crate doors and they hop in. We carry collapsible dog crates at all times. They ride in them and are perfectly safe in hotel rooms, in case someone opens the door during our absence, and there's no worry about the dogs getting out.

One last thing - Mr. Peters just got back from a five week business trip. Because of young puppies, I stayed home. He laughingly told me one desk clerk asked, "How are the dogs?" Didn't ask about the puppy sitter; I never thought it would come to this.

Don't be afraid to take yours along on a trip.

CH. BLYTH OF DELL
(Subject to A. K. C.)

(Ch. Fulafaun of the Congo x Scheherazade of Sankuru)

"Blyth" finished her title at 7 1/2 months of age by going WB at the 1966 BCOA Midwest Spec., St. Louis, Mo., under Judge Hollis Wilson.

Photography by B. C. O. A. member Bob Gross who made this enlargement from a ringside photo of the Open Bitch Class. (Many thanks, Bob.)

MIDWEST SPECIALTY

by Donald L. Griggs, Midwest Specialty Chairman

May 22, 1966, was typical for the St. Louis area. The temperature rose to near 90 degrees and the sun shone brightly. The B. C. O. A. Specialty was to be judged at 10:30 A.M. and by 9: A.M. the displays were in place and the trophy table was set with a colorful array of silver and enamel trophies which were a real eye-catcher. By 11: A.M. the president of the Mississippi Valley Kennel Club told that they had the largest gate in their history for that early in the day. Everyone was coming to see this rare and little known breed - the Basenji.

The judging of the Specialty went quite smoothly and Mr. Hollis Wilson certainly deserves a vote of thanks from all who were present for the fine job he did in selecting the best out of a field of very fine entries.

TERRYTU'S RED FLASH OF KELYN took Winners Dog and Best of Winners. He is a very fine specimen of the male Basenji with good red color and a very nice, far-reaching stride.

BLYTH OF DELL took Winners Bitch over quite a nice entry of bitches. This lovely red and white bitch is now a champion and is just over seven months old.

CHAMPION KHAJAH'S GAY FULA CADET took Best of Breed, but he had an excellent challenger in CH. REDNICK OF RANCHO REST. Best of Opposite Sex went to a grand Basenji bitch, in beautiful dark red coat, CH. RED LADY OF RANCHO REST.

"Cadet" went on to further glory by taking a first in the Hound Group and I'm sure all the B. C. O. A. members are very proud of him. CADET now has 32 Best of Breeds to his credit and he hopes to really make a name for himself in this year of 1966.

My thanks to all those wonderful people who came to St. Louis to support the Specialty. Especially to Ed and Karin Quam who set up the pre-show dinner and were so very helpful to me in making this Specialty one of which we all can be proud.

Eastern B.C.O.A. Sanction Match

by Roberta Abelson, Match Show Secretary

The first A. K. C. Sanctioned Basenji match in the East was held on Sunday, May 29, 1966. The match was held at the home of Bill and Ruth Hill in Tallman, New York, and was a tremendous social success. Despite pouring rain the day before, and a rainy morning which frightened away all but the most hardy, the afternoon arrived with bright and warm sunshine to dry the grass, and cheer the Basenji pups and spectators.

The over-sized judging ring was on part of a grassed tennis court, and fenced all around the spectator's area so that slippery pups couldn't get away. Mr. and Mrs. Hill, along with David Hill, Match Show Chairman, worked overtime mowing the lawns and planting flowers so that the show site was really lovely.

Bobbi Abelson, Match Show Secretary (that's me), spent hours at the typewriter and telephone, collecting a massive display of trophies and raffle and door prizes. The ring was a beautiful sight with the big trophy table covered with silverplate dishes and beer mugs, and other prizes of St. Aubrey's products, Viomul, Pervinal, and B. C. O. A. medallions. Everyone in the ring won something, even if it was only a box of Liva-Snaps! There were no losers at the B. C. O. A. Eastern Match! About 30 prizes were handed out in a huge raffle drawing with the first prize being a fancy dog first aid kit.

The match opened with a show handling lesson given by the judge, Miss Elizabeth Ryder of Marlise Kennels, Great Barrington, Massachusetts. Miss Ryder explained what she wanted each exhibitor to do, showed how to gait a dog, open his mouth to show the bite, and how to stack the dog. The proper procedure was demonstrated, under the judge's supervision, by Bobbi Abelson, with the assistance of Ch. Khajah's Gay Pandora, owned by Robert and Edward Yanowitz, who were there to look over the new crop of puppies. Then all the new exhibitors were invited into the ring where they had a chance to gait their dogs under the watchful eyes of some of the experienced exhibitors, who helped correct some of the most obvious handling faults.

Next came the Junior Handlers to show what they had learned. There was a class for ages 5 to 9, and one for ages 10 to 16. There were trophies, medallions, and prizes for the first four in each class. All Junior Handlers were so good that they all won records, kindly donated by the Ken-L-Ration people. Here are the results:

Ages 5 to 9 years:

- First) Ronny Brody
Second) Billy Brody
Third) Gregg Patterson

Ages 10 to 16 years:

- First) Wendy Patterson Second) John Versosky
Third) Jo Ann Yanowitz Fourth) Rick Scielzo

Judge for the Junior Handlers was Mrs. Marion Finke, also of Marlise Kennels, who did an excellent and difficult job in picking the winning junior handlers.

Judging then proceeded with Judge Elizabeth Ryder taking over her task. There were 4 male, 7 female puppies; 1 male and 4 female adults present.

Below are some of the general comments on the dogs by the judges and some of the breeders:

In general, the quality of the tri-colors was better than that of the red and whites at the match. Most of the Basenjis were in very good coat, had good wrinkle and were quite alert. The major criticism seemed to be that many were too long of loin, and most of them needed more ring experience.

The puppy Best of Breed, AQUIA'S JACK OF SLEEPY HOLLOW was a lovely tri with short loin and a level topline. He was showy, moved well with the proper reach.

The adult dog, ROSE-BAY'S GAY RINGLEADER, the only adult male at the match, is a stylish, well marked red and white, and is very flashy.

The adult Best of Breed, HENTY P'KENYA'S CORISTA, was the best quality red and white at the show according to the judge. She is short of loin, good topline, and generally sound and quite elegant.

The best competition was among the puppy females where FETTY'S T-INKER BELLE OF BOMAR wound up as Best of Opposite Sex. This is another flashy tri. She is a gay mover with a long neck, and is quite a responsive showman. Second in puppy female was AQUIA'S DIXIE BELLE, a well marked red and white with high set little ears and good wrinkle. Third was KHAJAH'S MIDNITE AMBER, a very sound 3 month old tri, with exceptionally short loin and good tail-set, feet and topline. This young pup has much promise. Fourth place went to another tri, KASAI'S DARK BRANDY, with a beautiful coat and markings.

Everyone was happy with the judging and the experience acquired, and a good time was had by all. An especial thanks go to the neighbors of the Hills - Mrs. Walter Naumann and Mrs. Martin Walles, who helped in selling coffee and soda, and to Mrs. Clara Bradley, who came as an exhibitor and performed invaluable assistance in taking entry fees and admission fees. Thanks too to Dr. Martin Abelson, who talked everyone into buying more and more raffles, for their own good, of course. And many thanks to Bill and Ruth Hill for the use of their home and taking our two wonderful judges out to dinner. We are now busy planning next year's match. We would like to see all of you there, rain or shine.

NOTICE - Starting with July, 1966, all advertisers will be sent an extra issue who have a quarter page ad or larger.

SNUFF OF HORSLEY

"WAGGING TALES FROM NEW YORK"

by Hazel Ulm

Where will it stop? The cruelty, mistreatment, and petnapping? Unless pet owners and breeders "see the light" and take better precautions to protect their pets, or new laws are passed by congress, never! Open your eyes and realize that right in your own home town there are unscrupulous people who go around collecting pets for the purpose of resale to research laboratories.

I'm the first to admit that research is necessary, but under no circumstances should stolen pets and those obtained under false pretences be used to this end. True, if there were no research labs, the dealers supplying them would soon be out of business. However, there is research, and now only you, the breeders and pet owners, can protect your animals from such dealers.

How do they operate? Strays are their easiest prey. By the time the neglectful owners realize "Lassie" hasn't come home and start to check, all traces of their pet have been wiped clean. How often have you, as a kennel owner, left your dogs protected only by a fine mesh fence that could easily be cut with wire cutters? Some dealers operate by painting their trucks the same color as that of the local S. P. C. A. to throw off suspicion.

Breeders are often the target through their ads in their local town paper, advertising a Basenji to someone willing to give a good home to a retired brood bitch or stud. While it is true that the younger dogs may be preferred since the average going price is $1 per pound, the older, often heavy dog will do in a pinch.

Through a weekly pet column that I write, I have advised local pet owners to use the following contract when placing a pet:

a) Party receiving the dog promises to give it a good, loving, healthy home life.

b) Under no circumstances is this animal, described in full as to sex, color, size, and breed, to be given or sold to research dealers or laboratories.

c) Party is not to give the animal away or have it put to sleep without first notifying you.

d) Take license number and address of the party directly from their driver's license. Both you and the party should sign this agreement along with the date of the signatures. Give the party a carbon copy, keeping the original for your files.

Maybe this won't stop the dealers, but it will certainly slow them down and make them think twice. Lack of proof has always been the biggest obstacle to authorities. Keep in mind that the legitimate pet seeker will not object to signing this contract so if he balks, beware!

IMPORTANT NOTICE

To be sure you do not miss any copies of "The Basenji" magazine, please send your change of address at least three weeks in advance of moving. If you do not know your new address this soon, please send notice to hold, and your magazine will be sent as soon as your new address is received. Thank you.

"TRUDY"

My mother says
She never understood
Proverbs, until I Came along.

"A dog that will bring a Bone will take one,"
For instance. Heh!
She says the situation
Is more like
"Dog in the manger."
I don't bring.
I grab hers and
Keep both of them.

As for "Dog eat dog,"
Having led a sheltered life,
She didn't know that "Dog eat dog"
Meant, Trudy eats her.

POETS' CORNER

All work and no play
Really gets a fellow.

So lullaby and goodnight. . .

- - - Shirley Chambers

BE(AU) JABBERS

When rockets soar and big bombs roar
And quiet seems a myth,
I hunt a place to hide my face
And wish the Fourth were Fifth.

- - - Carolyn Forse

Welcome Home

The busy day over,
My heart starts to smile,
To think of the welcome
I'll have in a while.

It's nice to come home
To find without fail,
Four-footed happiness
Wagging his curly tail.
