COVER STORY

Sire: BOBEL'S HAWAII BANNER
Am. Ch. Black Charivari of Ouimac
Bobels Gad-About of Wil-Ja
CH. KEIKI O KA MAKI PO (whelped 12/27/65, single whelp)
Eng. Ch. Fleet of the Congo
Dam: TANGE SAZEN
Black Orchid of the Bambuti OTC

Translated, "SON OF A ONE EYE," KEIKI is the only product of the breeding of TANGE SAZEN (a legendary one-eyed Japanese Samuri warrior) and BOBELS HAWAII BANNER (PIKO). TANGE SAZEN (PIXIE) was also one-eyed as a result of eye damage in play with her mother, requiring the removal of an eye. PIXIE was killed by an automobile shortly after KEIKI'S birth and was the only survivor of a litter conceived in England and born in Hawaii.

KEIKI completed his conformation title by winning Best Basenji over two specials at the Hawaiian Kennel Club spring show in Honolulu on March 17, 1968, under Judge Albert E. Van Court. Later, Mrs. Van Court selected him as Best Hound in Show. KEIKI was very capably handled by Ann Goshorn, age 15. This win climaxed a campaign of 7 straight shows and 7 Winners Dog awards.

His first time shown was in a sanctioned match in July 1966, at just over six months of age. KEIKI gave his first indication of his winning ways by going Group One and being seriously considered for Best in Match. On September 5, 1966, he earned his first two points under Major Bryant Godsol, as Best Basenji, coming up from the Puppy Class. In October 1966, KEIKI was Best of Breed and Group Two in the Hawaiian Kennel Club Sanctioned Puppy Match. Two points were added in March 1967 when Miss Marjorie E. Siebern selected KEIKI as Winners Dog and Best of Opposite Sex. This is the only time he was not selected for Best Basenji in a show.

His first major was under Judge Vincent G. Perry at Maui in May 1967. Mr. Perry also gave him Best Hound award. The second major came under Judge R. A. Cross who awarded (continued on page 2)

The two "Fun Matches" recently held in Maryland were well represented by Basenjis. The Catonsville Kennel Club Match, May 19th, had an entry of 12. Just as the Basenjis were to go into the ring the rain came down in torrents. All the judging was held up until other facilities could be made available. There was a mad dash for cars as our dear Basenjis hate to get wet. Most of the "ole die-hards" stayed around for the judging which was held in cow sheds. Joyce Washington's black and white dog went Best of Breed. The following Sunday, the Carroll Kennel Club held their match at Westminster, Maryland, in the Reese Fire Hall grounds, high on top a hill, overlooking the beautiful Maryland farmlands. Again there was a fine entry of 14. Joyce Washington's trip from Virginia was not in vain as she again went Best of Breed.

Two matches are scheduled for August. The first will be held August 4th by the Glenburn Kennel Club. On August 11th the Catonsville Junior Kennel Club will hold their match. Anyone interested in flyers, please contact me. These two matches will be fine practice for the coming point shows at Easton and Annapolis.

The Lancaster Kennel Club show, May 12th, had an entry of 28. Winners Dog and Best of Winners was KAIA'S PEPI, owned by Dorothy A. Lane and Joyce C. Brill. Winners Bitch was KHAJAH'S GAY TRINKET, owned by Bettie J. Rees. Best of Breed was Geoffrey and Catherine Cant's CH. BETSY ROSS' APRIL AMNERIS. Best of Opposite Sex was Bosley's CH. SILVER FOX HYBOY OF DRUMPOINT. The major win of KAIA'S PEPI was saddened by the death of one of his co-owners. Our deepest sympathy goes to Mr. Donald Brill whose wife Joyce C. Brill was killed instantly in a head-on collision on rainswept Severn River Bridge, Maryland. A daughter Lisa J. Brill died June 4th as a result of injuries and the other two Brill children are still hospitalized. Mr. Brill lives at 211 Garden Gate Lane, Annapolis, Maryland 21403.

Upper Marlboro Kennel Club had an entry of 15. Mrs. Dean D. Howard's DELEE'S WIZARD was Winners dog and Best of Opposite Sex. William and Lynne Sechler's POOKA'S ATHENA was Winners Bitch, Best of Winners and Best of Breed. There was a class of four specials, a fine win for the Howards and Sechlers.

Everyone knows Basenjis like to chew, but when the object is a pair of false uppers that is going too far. Imagine my friend's surprise when she ended her search on the back porch where TABURI was sitting in the porch chair proudly trying them on for size (what was left of them, that is). What a picture he must have presented.

KEIKI as Best Basenji over one special. Mrs. Helen Walsh awarded him a Group Two at this show. He then finished his championship title under Mr. Van Court.

We are very sorry to report that DOROTHY GOWENS passed away on May 27, 1968. Born December 16, 1922, she is survived by her husband, Francis J. Gowens, Sr., two brothers, John R. Whittier, M.D. of New York City, and Raymond W. Whittier of Little Rock, Arkansas. Also two stepsons, Francis J. Gowens, Jr., of Honolulu and Leslie J. Gowens of Seattle, a step-daughter, Mrs. Terry Odal of Seattle and her step-mother, Mrs. Raymond W. Whittier of Little Rock, Arkansas.

Dottie was seriously involved with breeding and showing Basenjis since March 1960 when LANAI KAUNA'OA OF KOKO CRATER was obtained from Helene Vaughn.

KEIKI is now solely owned by Frank Angell. Frank, Sr. has BOBELS HAWAII BANNER, KURO CHAN (recently spayed) and KURO'S MITSUE CHAN (daughter of KEIKI and KURO). He plans to continue showing PICO and MITSUE. Two others from this litter will also be shown by their owners. No further breeding is planned.

The Basenji is getting to be well known at Andrews Air Force Base. On my weekly trips there to pick up my niece and bring her home to Glen Burnie for the weekend, I always take a different Basenji with me. Don't be surprised if you hear one has been named "Airman of the Year!"

I recieved this poem from an owner of one of our Basenjis. Unfortunately, he is now in the "Happy Hunting Grounds for Basenjis."

MY TAMBA

The window seat is broad and wide
To stretch out flat and watch the night.
I press my tawny body tight
Pretending it's the jungle floor
That sends back sounds as bright as light.

Who is this creature feather light
Who thrills to chills that might be fright.
Not me! I'm bold and brave and bright.
Besides my mother holds me tight.
I'm a Basenji!

These very nice people now have another Basenji but I'm sure there will always be a memory in their heart for TAMBO CHO.

DON'T FORGET — Donations for trophies for the Eastern Specialty to Agness Wood, and requests for flyers for the two Maryland matches to Laura Bosley at above address.

Ramblin' With Grannie Green

by Evelyn Green, 302 26th Avenue, Meridian, Mississippi

(Editor's note: This whimsical little "fable" was adapted from Grannie's own experience with her first Basenji. Because of the deep and tender devotion which exists between CH. CONGO TAR IMP MITZI OUMAC and the writer, full credit must be given her as the source of inspiration.)

MITZI was unhappy.

With the keen perceptiveness that exists between Basenjis and their human associates, she had discerned some days ago that a change of home was impending for her.

Now a conversation between Jane and Bob Kirby confirmed her fears.

"The Allens have decided to take MITZI," Jane told her husband. "They are coming for her tomorrow."

"Do you think she will be happy with them?" Bob interrogated.

"I think so," Jane replied thoughtfully. "Although MITZI is their first Basenji, they've bred Pekingese for many years. I am only leasing her to them so if they find our breed is not for them, they can return her. MITZI will whelp in about five weeks. There's nothing quite like a litter of puppies to teach one the winsome personality of the Basenji."

MITZI heard it all.

So this is to be my fate, she thought bitterly. And me a champion, one of their very first, and a tri-color at that! It's all because I've had a teeny little feud with that little tri favorite of the Kirbys. Why, they even allow her to sleep on the foot of their bed, MITZI'S thoughts ran resentfully.

Well, she decided firmly, I'll teach these Allens a thing or two about Basenjis. They'll wish they'd never seen me!

The hour of transfer came all too quickly. The Allens arrived in a whirl of enthusiasm, all three of them - father, mother and college son. MITZI wasn't one bit impressed. She had the feeling those folks were going to break out any minute with disgusting baby talk.

"We'll put MITZI on the back seat with Tom," Jean Allen told husband Les. "The crate will fit nicely on the seat and she can get acquainted with Tom on the way home."

MITZI quickly foiled that little attempt at developing a friendship. She coiled herself in a tight ball and pretended to sleep soundly throughout the long 200-mile trip. It was very late when MITZI arrived at her new home. She was tired and cramped from her self-enforced position.

"MITZI, come," said Tom with gruff boy gentleness. "I'll take you for a run before we go to bed." And run MITZI did. Almost before the lead could be placed on her neck, she shot into a Gallup, literally dragging the surprised Tom behind her. That'll learn him, puffed MITZI, as she slowed to get a second wind before forging ahead into the night.

A weary boy and dog finally made it back home. MITZI drank thirstily of the water Tom offered her but disdained a tasty morsel of beef she'd ordinarily have devoured with delight.

"I don't think she likes us," Jean told Les sorrowfully, "and I know she is going to like our 'old men's home' of Pekes even less. I shudder to think what will transpire between her and our spoiled Siamese cat."

"We'll see," Les answered placatingly.

Troublesome, discouraging days followed. Since the Allens were not in the habit of crating the old Pekes, they felt it would cause MITZI to feel resentful if they were allowed freedom and she were crated except for feeding and exercising.

As for MITZI, she had no intention of making any adjustments or concessions. She just plain sulked and repaid the

THE MAILBOX

From Mrs. Paul Criss, Box 785
Broken Bow, Oklahoma

I really appreciated you people sending me the April and May issues of THE BASENJI at my old address. I happened to be home when they arrived.

My Basenji had fallen and sprained his leg - all the ligaments and muscles were loose from the pastern. These two issues gave drawings and gave us a better idea of the structure of the leg. The veterinarian I had taken the dog to had only given him pain killer which I found out after receiving THE BASENJI and changing veterinarians. The new veterinarian took X-rays to confirm what was actually wrong and also consulted an expert on treating small animals from Texas A and M. We have had a cast on the leg for three weeks and we can see improvement in the tightening up of these ligaments.

THE BASENJI is almost a Bible for us with our Basenji and I recommend it as a "must" for all new found Basenji friends across the country.

In the construction business, we don't always get sent where we expect. The company sent someone else to the job in Osawatomie, Kansas. I sent the postmaster in Kansas a notice to forward all of our mail to us which he hasn't done even though we are paying him to do this. Right now my husband and I are temporarily at a job near Las Vegas, New Mexico, we might be there another week, and we have another week or two to spend in Cuba, New Mexico. We may have a week or two at New Plymouth, Idaho while waiting for material to come to the New Mexico jobs. We think in July sometime we'll be moving to a job in Iowa. And that job will last a little longer and I will send you another address from there when I find out if we are moving for sure this time. . .

From Mr. and Mrs. Louis H. Ryder, Whitaker Avenue
Box 352, Mont Clare, Pennsylvania

We enjoy your "Basenji" magazine very much and have already renewed our subscription.

In your May issue, page 2, we were interested in seeing that cartoon picture you published. We are enclosing the one (on left) which was published about a year ago in the "Daily Republican" newspaper of Phoenixville, Pennsylvania.

Very few people here have heard of the "Basenji" breed. We are just beginners and read everything we can find concerning them. . . Going to shows has been a great experience for us, but we are looking forward to breeding the best Basenjis that we can.

We wish you continued success.

From Mrs. Helene Vaughan, 3213 Dalemead Street
Torrence, California

I just arrived in California after a vacation in Hawaii of over four months.

It was quite distressing when I was visiting a friend and a phone call came telling that Dot Gowens had died on May 30. It was from her husband. I was quite shocked as I'd seen and talked with Dot on March 17 at the all-breed show and her dog won Best in Group. She was so elated with the win and seemed so happy over it. One doesn't know when their time has come and Dot was only 45 years old. She bought her first Basenji from me about twelve years ago, but since had imported some Basenjis from England.

I feel so sorry about her death as she was such a wonderful person and consistent Basenji breeder. She also wrote the "Aloha From Hawaii" column and held a very responsible position as a legal secretary in a law firm.

I purchased a new Basenji pup four days ago. My bitch died in boarding in April. My male howled his head off, so I got this darling 5-month old bitch and now all is serene at KO CRATER KENNELS. . .

. . . While in Hawaii, I was the manager of a boarding kennel and had twenty dogs and many cats, also two Java Rice birds and a lamb. It was hard work, but I love animals and don't mind caring for them.

"THE SENJI-SIZER"

Have you ever wished your Basenji was as firm and trim as some seen in the show ring, but the thought of daily regulated exercise for you and your dog leaves you with that "tired all over" feeling? Bill Magee has solved this problem by inventing a modern exerciser which allows the "people" part of the team to sit back in his easy chair while his Basenji gaily exercises himself into beautiful condition.

Bill and Jan Magee, members of the Hi-Country Basenji Club, have given us a demonstration of their remarkable device and we were amazed and a bit envious of those lucky Magee dogs taking turns and enjoying the walking machine as if it were a game.

Bill designed his home made dog walker and says it can be made in any handy-man's workshop for around $100. The major components of the "Senji-Sizer" consist of a 1/3 horsepower 1725 RPM 110 volt motor, spring loaded pulley on motor, 8.5 inch pulley on rollers (washing machine wringer type rollers) and belt of 2 ply, 8 inch wide and 8 1/2 feet long.

The exerciser works "tread mill" fashion with the dog walking at a set pace which can be varied from slow to fast by adjusting the belt speed from 270 to 540 feet per minute.

The Magee's three Basenjis truly enjoy their walking sessions and will walk without any lead or restraint, however, they should not be left unattended while exercising. Two to three minute sessions daily is ample for tightening up and developing a dog. Too much exercise could be detrimental and any dog just beginning to work out on a "Senji-Sizer" should not be permitted to walk for more than a minute at first, gradually building up until the two to three minute maximum

THIS IS THE BASENJI

by Joyce Mullis, 5224 Laurel, Adair AFS, Oregon 97330

This month's drawings show the bone structure of the Basenji and the internal organs. I hope it will help you to see what the judges are looking for in shoulder and hip structure.

You can see from the placement of the internal organs why such things as a deep brisket and proper spring of ribs is so important to the dog's stamina.

is reached.

Any of you who may be interested in this new method of exercising your dogs and you have any questions regarding the construction or use of the "Senji-Sizer," Bill would be happy to be of assistance. Write to: W. E. "Bill" Magee, 1522 Manitou Blvd., Colorado Springs, Colo.

A Basenji Club of Southern California has been formed. Meetings are held on the 4th Wednesday of each month at 8 P. M., at the Independent Bank, 222 North Euclid, Fullerton - north of the Riverside Freeway. We'd like to see you; bring along that Basenji owned friend also. For further information, please contact Andrew Logan, acting president. 714, 638-2690 or Fern Henrichsen, acting secretary. 213, 282-6943.

The Basenji owners of Southern California held their third Fun Match on May 12th, to raise funds for the supported shows at Beverly Hills and Santa Barbara and the Western Specialty. The day started early at Cambria Kennels for the many helpers. The obedience ring was busy as soon as the entries were in - taken by Andy and Anne Logan.

A delicious lunch, provided by exhibitors, consisting of chicken, ham, potato salad, beans, etc., with desert and punch was served by Jerry Crandall and Carol Webb with willing assistance from others. Drinks were ably fixed by Dr. and Mrs. Zemblidge.

Dan Ekern was a great M.C. on the P. A. system, providing a musical background and was also the auctioneer for the gaily wrapped white elephants. Ring stewards were Ed Landfield and Ken Henrichsen. Flyers were designed by Frank and Betsy Scheufele. The raffle for a bench crate was handled by Sylvia Landfield, and won by Earlene and Fred Carter.

The judging was held on the beautifully kept grass area. High score in obedience went to NEFERTARI OF TAMLEI, owned by Laurie Aggas - earned 195 points by Judge Forrest De Mendt.

Because of other handling commitments, we have been unable to campaign our own young stock which we had so carefully selected as future champions. We do not wish to deprive them of the titles they deserve, and therefore offer to serious exhibitors the lovely and very aptly named "Sweetie" (pictured); two other r/w bitches; and a tri male. Half the reasonable purchase price will be refunded if shown to their championship in one year.

Basenji Club of New England YANKEE DOIN'S

by Ross Dwinells, 5 James Avenue, Natick, Mass. 01760

The BCONE held its third match at our home on May 19, 1968, and it was the most successful to date. Mr. Ross I. Newmann judged the conformation classes and Mr. Robert Cullinane judged the junior handling and also the all important ladies handling class - a new feature added this year. Despite threatening weather and the forecast of rain, the turnout was more than expected and the club realized a considerable profit. It was gratifying to all of us to note the many people who came as spectators, and to see all the new Basenji owners. The match was well publicized in the local papers and drew the curious as well as the "fancy."

The Show Chairman, Miss Julie Eells, with the help of her Committee, did their job well with excellent results. Everything went off with very little difficulty. The trophies were wonderful, thanks to the Trophy Chairman Mr. Davis Householder, and the food was superb. Mrs. Edith Perry, our Hospitality Chairman really outdid herself in this department.

There appeared to be more red and whites this year in the new crop of puppies. Last year tris were predominant. Whether this has any significance is hard to tell. I do know there are more tris appearing in the show rings this year. They must be last year's puppies.

There were 35 entries in the match, 18 in the puppy classes and 17 in the adult classes. The following is a list of winners:

Best Junior Handler - Christine Stosz
Best Lady Handler - Julie Eells
Best Adult Dog in Match - LUDDYMARIE'S GORGEOUS

GEORGE, Julie Eells.
Best of Opposite Sex - PHEMISTER'S PRIDE OF POWERS, Ardys Powers.
Best Puppy in Match - RED BACCHUS OF ROVIDA, Virginia Dwinells.
Best of Opposite Sex - KHAJAH'S GAY FIESTA, Bob and Ann House.

Puppy Dogs (5 entries)
First, RED BACCHUS OF ROVIDA, Virginia Dwinells
Puppy Bitches (13 entries)
First, KHAJAH'S GAY FIESTA, Bob and Ann House.
Adult Dogs, without majors (6 entries)
First, PHEMISTER'S RADEMES, James and Linda Hushard.

Adult Dogs, with majors (4 entries)
First, LUDDYMARIE'S GORGEOUS GEORGE, J. Eells.
Adult Bitches, without majors (7 entries)
First, PHEMISTER'S PRIDE OF POWERS, A. Powers.
Brace Class (2 entries)
First, PHEMISTER'S PRIDE OF POWERS and POWERS GEORGIE BOY, Ardys Powers.
There were no entries in the adult bitches with majors.

BASENJI CLUB OF CALIFORNIA (continued)

Entered for Exhibition Only in the Future Champion Parade were Basenjies with major wins. Then the Parade of Champions with Basenjies ranging in age from 1 1/2 years to 11 1/2 years. The oldest was CH. CAMBRIA'S NEFERTITI, owned by Dr. and Mrs. Zemblidge and then our own CH. BEE-JAC'S FANTASY at 9 1/2 years. I believe these two girls enjoyed themselves more than the puppies.

Thank you, everyone, for your part in making it, as a guest owning another breed, entered in obedience was heard to say, "The best match I've ever been to."

ARCTIC CAPERS

by Sam McKee, 3121 Knik Avenue, Anchorage, Alaska

Once again I've been off on one of my periodic peregrinations peremptorily ordered by my practice. And my mail has been heavy, as it always is when the honor roll is published.

Anne Logan wrote to tell me that CH. BEE-JAC'S FANTASY is over nine years old and won't be producing any more pups. A wise idea in my book because TASSY is one of the more beautiful Basenjis and it would be a shame to lose her.

Margaret Robertson caught me in a mistake, pure and simple. Evidently, I can't even read my own records right at times. On the honor roll I had listed GLENARLEY BLACK TRINKET as a daughter of WIDGEON OF THE CONGO. This is not true. TRINKET'S name should have had an (o) behind it, and ORANGE FIZZ OF THE CONGO should have had (K)(O) behind it. The name of GLENARLEY MISSALTHRUSH should have had an (m) behind it to show that she is WIDGEON'S daughter.

Other letters have sent me to the record book, but I couldn't find where I'd goofed, so back went letters asking them to recheck, and let me know where I could find a particular dog listed in the Gazette as a champion. If my "honor roll" is to have any validity at all, I must stick to the official AKC publication.

A local newspaper shows this man who walked from California to Alaska with his dog who is uncontrovertibly a Basenji. Story under the picture says they left the Bay area March 10 and arrived here this past week.

By the time you read this my house will have a large void in it. Troy has finished college, graduates this afternoon, and takes off for New York next week to be married. You work for years for the moment when your responsibility ends but you get an empty feeling when the time comes.

The dogs and the cat will miss him. Since I was gone so much of the time, the care of the last litter fell almost entirely on him, and I must pay tribute to a fine job. Now I'll be here by myself, or as alone as you can be with two Basenjis. Jim Kittle is "rotating" next month taking CHRISTY with him. Then it will be just MIMI and I, plus KOYUKUK, the old Siamese who owns both of us.

My girl friend tells me that my love and admiration for Basenjis stems in part from my Sagittarian nature. Guess the idea is that I have such an absolute passion for freedom and

We Want To Meet You

by Marie E. Steele, 2180 Lake Marie Drive
Santa Maria, California 93454

You and your Basenjis are most cordially invited to the Santa Maria Kennel Club's annual show. Santa Maria, California is called the friendly city and we would like a chance to prove it to you! Our show has much to offer the exhibitor from near and far. Nearby San Luis Obispo is holding their fine show the day before ours. So, you can enjoy a two day showing weekend. We know you will like our beautiful coastal scenery and the relaxed atmosphere of this area. In addition, the show committee has planned our Santa Maria show with the comfort, convenience and interests of the exhibitor uppermost in mind. Parking at the fairgrounds is only a few steps from the rings, and we have a panel of 12 judges this year. Of course, the trophy committee is hard at work, as is the judge's dinner committee. The dinner will feature our famous Santa Maria style barbecued beef, and it is justly famous!

Our entry fee is lower than many shows due to the fine community support we enjoy. Our kennel club is greatly interested in encouraging junior handling. This competition will be treated as one of the most important events at the show. Our local TV station will televise the group judging at the end of the day - anyone want to be a TV star?

We hope to see a large entry in the obedience classes too, so sharpen up that trained Basenji and show us what you can do!

Here's the date: September 29, 1968. This is the place: Santa Maria, California. Flyers will be available for further details and I will be happy to mail you one; also answer personally any questions you may have. Drop me a line.

INTELLIGENT BASENJS

by Pamela Steineger, Box 46, Vettakollen, Oslo 3, Norway

There is one thing about Basenjis that I find especially interesting and that is their great sense of family. The mothers, though they will feed their own and their daughters' families of puppies, and at the same time are very strict about keeping outsiders away. I find my "boss" bitch will readily accept litters of Poodle pups that run around the garden, but she takes a long time to get used to and make friends with a Basenji puppy I bring in from outside.

I find with my Poodles that if one of them hurts itself and starts to "cry," some of the older dogs will rush in and attack it, and this despite the fact that my Poodles all have especially good natures. If a Basenji hurts itself, all the others rush up and show utmost concern and are clearly very worried indeed. I will never forget the worry of great grandma when two youngsters decided to breed when I was not there. She was very worried as the female was screaming her head off as Basenjis do in these circumstances and great grandma was trying to attack the dog who was hurting her poor little female offspring. Luckily I heard the row and came running.

Once when I had them all loose in the woods, we came to a very wet area where there was a swollen stream. I jumped over and so I thought had all the Basenjis 'till we heard the warning howls of someone left behind and found a young bitch who had not dared to clear the water. The whole flock rushed back to her and BOI jumped to her and jumped back across the stream several times until she picked up enough courage to cross herself. Then everyone gathered round to lick and comfort her.

Another thing about Basenjis is their amazing sense of direction. My husband took a young female with him on a walk. He was with a friend and they motored to a place several miles away, parked the car and started walking. She was with them for an hour until they came past several people and she had apparently got bewildered and missed him. After calling for a long time, he retraced his steps and found her under the car. She had never been that way before and she was only a baby of about seven months.

A family I know have a Basenji female and her daughter from me. INT. CH. PERLITA OF ROSSANTY is the mother, and I think the most intelligent Basenji I have ever heard of. Her owners take these two with them wherever they go and tell PERLITA where they are heading before they start so she can really enjoy the trip. They have friends in Drammen, a town about 30 miles off. PERLITA adores these people and gets very excited when she hears where they are going, and as they get to the outskirts of Drammen she starts yodelling and gets very excited. One time her owners were to go to the mountains and the route lay through Drammen. As they were not calling on their friends there, they said nothing to PERLITA. As they approached Drammen, she sat up and got very excited, and when they passed the turning to their friends and did not turn, but drove straight on, she was frantic. She pulled at their clothes and made a terrible noise and would not be comforted until they had driven a long distance past.

A final story concerns us and shows how near nature we live. A couple of years back I had taken the Basenji flock up in the woods and we were about ten minutes away from home when I decided to explore a small path I had not been on before, and after awhile, thought it looked rather like an elk path. At that moment, a huge male elk got up in front of us and made off at full speed with all the dogs after him. I called like mad as it was the breeding season and elk can get nasty.

Heart O'Northland Basenji Club

by Karen Pecore, 4619 Cedar Avenue South
Minneapolis, Minnesota 55407

The club's annual fun match was held May 26 in Minneapolis. The club's show committee, headed by Sally Robben and Bonnie Bossard, is to be congratulated on a very successful show. One thing all the exhibitors are very thankful for is the decision of the show committee to turn down the offer of a lovely, outdoor location for the show - OH, HOW IT RAINED! Canine College Training Quarters offered all the facilities a show committee could ask for. There were 34 Basenjis entered with 9 competing in obedience. There were many new faces at the match, with people coming from several states.

A regular club meeting started off the events of the day, followed by a lunch break. The afternoon program began with the Parade of Champions and Obedience Titled Dogs. Leading the parade was CH. MERLEA SERENADE IN BLACK still trim and proud as he lightly pranced around the ring showing himself off to the spectators as well as his offspring. Following him were CH. DARK VENTURE OF COCK'S-CROW, C. D., CH. DARK RINGO OF COCK'S-CROW and CH. ALADDIN OF COCK'S-CROW. DARK VENTURE reappeared to show off in the obedience titled dogs. Following him came KALI HEIGH, C. D. and DARK SPRITE OF COCK'S-CROW, C. D., the highest scoring Basenjis in the country for 1966 and 1967 respectively.

The conformation judge was Mr. Don Sandberg of St. Paul, Minnesota. Following are the results:

Best Puppy in Match: STUANDO'S NYIMBO ROHO, owned by Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Stuart.

Best of Opposite Sex Puppy: PHILDON'S GAY REBEL, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Donald Skinner (also BOS in Match).

Best Basenji in Match: PHILDON'S GAY FANTASY, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Donald Skinner.

Don Sandberg schooled the youngsters in the art of handling their Basenjis in the show ring. This clinic was well received by the youngsters participating, and also by all the adults crowded around the ring.

Mr. Merwyn Brown of Mahtomedi, Minnesota, judged the obedience classes and the winners were:

Beginners: CH. ALADDIN OF COCK'S-CROW, owned by Gary and Karen Pecore.

Novice: HO HUM'S TIFFANY, owned by Gary and Sally Robben.

Graduate Novice: KALI HEIGH, C. D., owned by Gary and Karen Pecore.

Open: KALI HEIGH, C. D., owned by Gary and Karen Pecore.

CH. ALADDIN OF COCK'S-CROW and KALI HEIGH, C. D., both owned by the Pecores, tied for highest scoring dog in trial with a score of 197. Karen decided she would rather not run it off as she didn't want to take the chance of having her KALI beaten by a "smart alec" like ALADDIN.

Everyone had fun and the show committee would like to thank all who came out for the match and all those who helped make the match a success. An especial "thank you" to 12-year old Bradley Jensen. Bradley channeled an enormous amount of energy into working all day at the match and doing a tremendous job in about a dozen different capacities without ever having to be asked, taking time out only to bring his SHAMAN (SOFT WIND'S MOONSAIL) into the ring for the junior handler clinic. Again, thanks to all!

NEW CHAMPION

Ch. KHAJAH'S GAY TRINKET

(Black M'Binza of the Congo x Ch. Fulaflashi of the Congo)

TRINKET finished her championship on May 12, 1968, at the Lancaster (Penna.) Kennel Club show, handled by her breeder Shirley Chambers, winning a major under Alva Rosenberg. Her other major was a 5-pointer won under Maxwell Riddle at the 1965 Midwest Specialty going Best of Winners over almost 60 Basenjis. She has been shown sparingly since then. Also took time out for a litter of puppies. Some will be seen in the shows this summer. Owner: Bettie J. Rees, Bazimba Kennels, Reg., 424 Thomas Avenue, Newark, Ohio 43055.

Yodels from the Evergreen Basenji Club"SNARLS, NOT YODELS"

by Sheila H. Smith, 14944 21st Avenue S.W.
Seattle, Washington 98166

We hear a lot of talk about the "old type" Basenji, but when I look at the pictures of a lot of them that are winning throughout the United States, I wonder just what is meant by "old type." I have a feeling that a lot of breeders are becoming so kennel-blind that they can't see the creeping similarity between the type they are breeding and the smaller Boxers. Or the creeping similarity between the type they are breeding and a Bull Terrier. I don't mean the head - I mean the body. How can some of these winners be construed as "finely pointed" or "aristocratic," and "GAZELLE LIKE?"

Did you all read Veronica Tudor-Williams' book? The same applies today as it did twenty years ago. Where are the 22 pound bitches and the 24 pound dogs? WHERE ARE THE BASENJIS THAT APPEAR HIGHER ON THE LEG THAN THEY DO FROM PROW TO STERN? What's with the judges that put up these short-legged, wide-fronted Basenjies to top spots? What's with the breeders that sell such dogs as breeding quality, let alone show quality? "OLD TYPE?" Let me tell you - there were some pretty big dogs then, according to the standard. But percentage wise, there were less than there is now, and they could hold their own against a lot of them being shown right now, and come out on top! We felt that our beloved CH. TENNJI'S BRUCE, whelped December 28, 1953, matured a bit coarse. He was 17 1/4 to 17 1/2 inches tall, and weighed 26 pounds. He had marvelous expression, a good red color, and moved beautifully, with a far-reaching, swinging stride. Old type? Hummm. CH. TENNJI'S CANDY, whelped December 1954, was exactly 16 inches tall, and weighed 22 pounds. Glorious deep red coat. If that's "old type," that's a pity.

Lately, I've had a terrible mad-on at the judges. Perhaps I shouldn't judge them so harshly. If breeders would open their eyes and come off this kennel-blind bit, they'd start putting that elegant, gazelle-like, leggy, slim, red and white, or black, tan and white Basenji in the show rings for the judges to see. Don't sit there and exclaim that you're not kennel-blind! And don't give me the excuse that "the judges thought he was good enough to put up." Don't let those judges be your excuse for not breeding for a gazelle-like animal! If judges rarely see such a Basenji, how will they know it's the proper type? No chance! They're going to continue putting up the short-legged, saggy backed, fawn colored, wide fellows that are more "typical."

Come on, start breeding and showing gazelles instead of the faded out, wide guernseys.

From Anne Fanning, 1048 Westminster Highway
Richmond, British Columbia

. . . On March 17th, we sold a 15-month old female to people from Princeton, British Columbia. They came to pick her up as they thought she would not be as upset as going by plane. They brought their two children to ride in the back seat with her. When they left us they said they were going through Cogitlam to have dinner with a sister and then on to Princeton. I told them to keep her on a leash and not let her out of their sight, because if she were to get loose they would never catch her again, and possibly never find her before she was killed by the heavy traffic. However, she had a good tight leather collar on and they were sure she would be secure, tied outside while they ate dinner. Somehow she slipped her collar and that's the last we heard of her until 8 A.M. yesterday when a lady phoned and said she was sure it was AWEELA. She had been putting food out for her the last two weeks, but had not been able to catch her. We told her the dog's name and that we were on our way right now and I went, housecoat and all, as it was Sunday morning and I had just got up to feed our pups.

The lady had kept AWEELA on her corner by sitting on the sidewalk talking and calling her name 'till we got there. We have a wee Boston male that the Basenjies all love so we took him with us as we were afraid she would run when the car stopped before she saw us, so we just let the pup out first. AWEELA was running away but TORO barked at her and then the next thing I knew she was in my arms.

She was quite a fat little butter ball when she got lost, thank heavens, because she could not have been eating much the first three weeks. But the last two weeks this lady put feed out for her at 8 A.M. every morning. AWEELA had made a bed for herself in the vacant lot across the corner and there is a little spring where she got water. She was quite thin and a little shaky yesterday, but is fine this morning. Of course, it will be a couple weeks before she'll be back in shape again. We certainly are grateful to the lady that fed her and very happy to have her back. It was exactly five weeks to the day that she was gone. We are going to keep her and have sold the Kellys a puppy instead.

POISONOUS SNAKES

All poisonous snakes found in the United States, with the exception of the coral snake, are classified as "pit vipers." These are the cottonmouth or water moccasin, the copperhead and approximately 26 kinds of rattlesnakes. The rattlesnake is considered to be the most dangerous due to its size and amount of venom produced.

All snakes having a venom capable of producing any marked effect on an animal possess some teeth known as "fangs." Basically, fangs are shaped like the other teeth, being curved and slender, but somewhat larger. All teeth are regularly replaced at intervals of perhaps two weeks to a month, and the teeth and fangs that are accidentally lost are quickly renewed. Hence, a snake from which the fangs have been removed (as done sometimes in carnivals and circuses) soon become dangerous again. Some fangs are hollow like hypodermic needles, whereas others possess a groove down one side.

SPECIALIZED GLANDS

In actuality, the venom glands of a snake are specialized salivary glands which are analogous to the human parotid salivary gland. They are elongated structures which are situated in a fibrous sheath and surrounded by a thin layer of muscle. They are located on each side of the head, just posterior to the eyes. When a venomous snake bites a victim, the full or distended venom sacs are compressed simultaneously with the closing of the jaws. In snakes with hollow fangs, the venom is ejected through the fangs into the victim's tissue in a manner similar to that of expressing fluid out of a hypodermic syringe through a needle. In snakes with grooved fangs, the venom is expressed from the venom ducts into the groove on the fang and then it flows through the grooves during the biting process into the victim's tissues. The venom not only immobilizes, but it also aids in the subsequent digestion of animal tissue.

AMOUNT OF VENOM VARIES

The venom glands of a rattlesnake contains about 220 mg of venom, a moccasin about 150 mg, and a copperhead about 45 mg of venom. The lethal dose of rattlesnake venom is considered to be 1 mg per pound of body weight. Therefore, a rattlesnake has the potential of killing 4 or 5 average size dogs with one bite. On the other hand, the lethal dose of moccasin venom is 3 mg per pound of body weight, thereby giving a moccasin the potential of killing only one average size dog.

The mode of spread of the venom is generally by the lymphatic circulation. Venom is usually deposited in the muscles or subcutaneous tissues. It travels with the lymph and slowly spreads as the lymph flows. Eventually, if the venom is not removed by suction from the subcutaneous spaces, it enters the veins and general circulation in the region of the upper thorax and is then carried by the blood stream to all parts of the body. As the venom passes through the liver, detoxification can occur if the animal is not completely overwhelmed by the venom.

Occasionally venom may be injected directly into a large blood vessel. When this happens, the venom spreads rapidly throughout the victim's body and death often occurs within a few minutes.

The coral snake, however, is entirely neurotoxic in effect. Diagnosis is usually made by the visible evidence of fang marks surrounded by extensive swelling and extreme pain. Fang marks, however, are not always visible. Therefore their presence or absence should not be the sole criteria for making a diagnosis. The presence of local tissue swelling and/or pain at the site of a snake bite is a reliable sign. If no significant local swelling, pain, or other alarming symptoms develop within a short period of time (30 to 45 minutes), the bite can be considered to have been inflicted by a non-poisonous snake.

The seriousness of any snake bite case is dependent upon the kind of snake, the amount of venom injected, the body weight of the victim, the location of the bite, and the toxicity of the venom. The toxicity of the venom from two snakes of the same kind and/or comparable size may vary considerably.

Allens by going on a path of destruction for her newfound freedom.

She discovered a favorite pair of shoes that belonged to Jean. She gleefully demolished them. She chewed the sleeves of Les' new suede jacket. She pulled a pillow from Tom's bed and when the mischief was discovered, MITZI was amid a cloud of feathers, grimly chewing the ticking!

The Pekes she haughtily ignored. But she took such pleasure in tormenting the cat that poor STRETCH took his abode atop the highest furniture. He could scarcely be coaxed down to eat. From a plump, well adjusted cat, STRETCH became gaunt and haggard. With long suffering patience, the Allens tolerated MITZI'S contrariness. They coaxed her to eat, they petted her and spent long hours trying to break the wall of resistance MITZI had imposed between them.

Strangely, the Allens were fascinated with the belligerent dog. They had no intention of returning her for they felt the magic moment would come when MITZI would accept them.

A mat beside Jean and Les' bed was MITZI'S sleeping place. She often cast a wistful eye at the soft bed. As she grew heavier in whelp, she thought longingly of the privileged tri she had feuded with in her former home.

A Basenji just has to belong. MITZI realized sorrowfully one night. A hard sigh shuddered through her now heavy body. Jean touched her husband, "MITZI is lonely." She reached down and touched MITZI gently on her head, then patted the bed.

"MITZI, come," she invited.

And MITZI came. She had found her family.

After about five minutes, all the Basenjis came back down the path at full speed, with the elk in full pursuit. I rushed for the side and scrambled as fast as I could out of the way and up thinking to hear the beast's hot breath on my neck any moment. All the Basenjis, bar grandma, came after me and we saw no more of the old elk. I was very worried when I discovered that PEPITA, the grandma, was missing and on reaching a safe spot, I called and called. At last, about a mile away, I heard the sorry yodel they make when they are desperately unhappy. I went down the hill again calling and at last she came up to us, very blown. She had obviously not noticed that I had moved and had gone down the path with the elk after her, thus leading him away from us.

Exercising the dogs here, they really get the feeling of being back in Africa, I think!

independence that I have to admire the trait wherever it is found. Can't say, as to that - won't gainsay it either. She and I have the same birthday, and I figure she knows all about me, just by being female. Still it would be interesting to know if there are many others of this sign who have Basenjis.

LOVE SONG TO MY BASENJI

I suppose the saying is right -
That a barking dog will never bite -

But I must also suggest to you
That the opposite may well be true.

The dog that does not bark - BEWARE!
Basenjis snarl and bite and tear!

I'm his owner, yet I'm not free!
I don't own DAVID, he owns me!

He's bold and cunning, bad and lazy -
His antics simply drive me crazy!

He doesn't care to win the blue -
He bites the judge and then he's through!

I love this dog with the wild new twist -
So I went to see the psychiatrist!

He prescribed, "To your dog be true!"
(The doctor loves a Basenji too!)

Now I've abandoned the long hard fight,
Whatever my DAVID does is right.

- - - Rebecca Linden Bird

DANDY

He is a Basenji
Who acts like a monkey
He's still very nice,
But what a life.

Dandy has no C. D.
But works like a bee
He's my lucky dice
For his future life.

DANDY will win like Mommy
He's such a fancy,
He'll give his life
To win his slice.

ALISSA

At the turnpike rest stop
We met a lady
With a foreign accent.
"Are those Benjis?"
She asked,
"Oh, they're lovely dogs.
We travel with a dog act,
You know.
We wanted to use Benjis in
Our Act.
They don't bark,
You know.
But we couldn't.
They wanted to go to bed
At sundown,
And sometimes we work nights,
But they are lovely dogs."
Me, I'm standing there,
Saying nothing.
But - -
Doesn't everybody
Want to go to bed
At sundown?
